

My best friend is always around.
He comforts me when I'm feeling down.

My best friend hears all I say,
("What month is it? Is it May?")

My best friend sees me as unique and wonderful, even when I'm feeling unforgiveable.

He always does what's best for me.
He wants me to be who I'm made to be.

When I make bad choices, He directs me eagerly.
Sometimes it's hard, but oh, so good for me.
